over that and found out more information. So I was feeling guilty before you filed the motion to reconsider. With that, I hope we can do this fairly quickly and move on.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Schrock. Senator Beutler, on the motion to reconsider.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Senator Cudaback, members of the Legislature, Senator Schrock, you indicate that we should not feel or question the integrity of this person who applied to be on the commission, and I guess I feel a little doubtful about that at this moment in time. After all, whether she was there or not at the point in time that the violations occurred, she has been there for a period of time and she knew of those violations. Why is it that you had to learn about it a few moments before the confirmation came on to the floor, when she should have told you about it as soon as she asked to be confirmed? Surely, anybody with a lick of common sense knows that's going to be an issue, and yet she chose not to say anything to you, as I understand the situation right now. In light of that lack of forthcomingness, I think that the question should be raised as to what discussions she had with her CEO, why she was applying for this in the first place in the face of an investigation, whether that investigation was likely to be ongoing while she was a member of the council, and what in general was the whole purpose of proposing her for an appointment. I think those questions are right there in front of us. And, you know, I wanted to stand up and talk about it a little bit, because we have in our rules, as you know, a whole section of rules dealing with investigating committees and the right to look into things that are going wrong, and the right to ask any question we want and bring any people before us that we want. We almost never, historically, have used that function. And you and I know that we don't use it because neither you or I have time to do it right. We're not in the practice of doing it. But things are that really should be the subject of state investigating committees, like the National Warranty situation that left thousands of car repair people with useless policies. There should be not just an interim study on that. There should be an investigating committee on something like that so that we get the full truth of something. We are so used to touching
